Dear Brethren:

My week-end with you was much more that I could have ever hoped for. Sue and I have prayed about our relationship with you so often and know now that our prayers are being answered in God's glorious way.

Your openness, honesty, and wisdom displayed in Saturday night's meeting convinced me even more deeply of the genuine New Testament leadership you are bringing to the Decatur congregation.

Your thoughtful gift was a pleasant surprise. We have done so little to deserve the love and consideration you have already shown us. Sue and I both send our deepest love, respect, and gratitude for all your encouragement of our efforts. I know of no one group of elders in the country from whom I have received more personal and genuine encouragement in my ministry. This sounds odd, in that I have only met with the entire group twice. Nevertheless, I feel strongly the open, sensitive, spiritual encouragement I have received in knowing you and your relationship with the Lord.

At this point, nothing has developed further than our conversation Saturday night. I will, of course, keep you completely informed. My revised target date for a final decision is May 25. If complications arise, I will let you know.

Thank you so much for your warm, sensitive, Christian arm that Sue and I sense embracing us as we face this important turning point in our lives.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
